

WIA Presentation Assignment

I chose to use Bootstrap for my presentation. Exploring its JavaScript features further is something I have been planning to take time and learn anyways. I have previously used this framework for its responsive features a few times and did like it. I can appreciate that it uses jQuery as well; this is another library I want to learn more about.

This was a good assignment for me. I like that I was given time to sit down and create a whole, or near whole website. As a result, I understand Bootstrap better and know some new tricks. The carousel, tooltips and modals are all features I will use again and again, so it's a bonus to have a working template to reference back to when I need it. I appreciated the chance to use my choice of library. This made the project personally relevant to me, I liked having a chance to explore on my own for a little bit.
